

Celesty, Intro (Reign Of Elements)

This tale leads you into the land of the Cryon.

Great Spirits created the Cryon because they wanted a place where all good and fair people could live. In the middle of the Cryon Great Spirits created four stones. Every Element God had one elemental stone.

In the northern part of the Cryon there was an area called Dramar. A place where Element Gods could live.

Dramar's ruler was Tyrant Delinom. Element Gods sent him to Dramar because he caused a riot in the Cryon.

Delinom noticed that escaping from Dramar was impossible and the only way out was to attack to the Cryon.

Our tale begins when Delinom is on the border between the Cryon and Dramar.
