

Celine Dion, Imperfections

i try to give all myself to you but before I can get there got parts of me I am trying to lose

I got my own imperfections
I got my own set of scars to hide
I got my own imperfections
I can't hold your heart when I am fixing mine, so

give up , give it up
I ain't gonna save you
give up , give it up
give up , give it up
I ain't gonna save you

cause I got my own imperfections
I got my own set of scars to hide
I got my own imperfections

hold on, not tryna put you on the shelf but before I could love you I need to learn to love myself

cause I got my own imperfections
I got my own set of scars to hide
I got my own imperfections
I can't hold your heart when I 'm fixing mine, so

give up , give it up
I ain't gonna save you
give up , give it up
I ain't gonna save you

cause I got my own imperfections
I got my own set of scars to hide
I got my own imperfections
I got my own I got my own

they're part of me and you are too and I don't really wanna choose can you love them the way o love you? they mae me who I am today and they won't ever go away can you love them the way that I love you

cause I got my own imperfections
I got my own set of scars to hide
I got my own imperfections

before I can love you
I need to learn to love myself
before I can trust you I need to learn to trust myself
