

Cellar Darling, Challenge

The time is nigh
I follow
all the echoes reciting to me I'll read the sky and follow the footsteps my enemies left for me

This is the sound, this is the sound, this is the sound hear me shout it out loud

Challenge me to the death with my feet stuck to the ground How can we cherish our inner demons without shouting it, letting it, fighting it out

Challenge me 'til the early dawn with my hands tied at the back I know I'll bring you down to your knees at last Crying mercy, mercy, have mercy on me

I can't deny you're hollow and I can't wait to bring you down Delights my eyes your sorrow
And feeds my old ever so vengeful heart

This is the sound, this is the sound, this is the sound of you hitting the ground
This is the sound, shout it out loud, shout it, shout it, shout it out loud