

Celldweller, I Believe You

This is my excuse to testify been a beaten down boy and I don't know why that's alright, that's alright

Well the truth was a lie and I don't know how it got me to follow whoa and it's true that the lie that was sold me will never let me go

What i needed you to say was hidden far away
This is why I've had to justify, my head is shaken, yeah but that's alright
What I needed to believe was hidden far from me That's alright cuz I believe you Take advantage of a malleable mind been a weakened sucker boy without a spine that's alright, that's alright

Tell me that I've got to fight your fights, and now I'm a bleeding boy without a life but that's alright, that's alright

Don't feel bad because I won't cry I'll do your will and not ask why, but that's alright because I believe you
