

Celtic Thunder, Lauren & I

So see the leaves fall to the ground,
And see then lyin' all around,
Cause still I can't see you,
And there's the wind that plays in the air,
Flying around how it does not care
still I can't see you
And the seasons pass away
And I still sit here lonely, each and every day.
Wondering what's gone wrong.
Cause I don't remember seasons lasting oh so long,
Oh so long
And I still can't see you
And I still can't see you
And I still can't see you
Lauren and I
Lauren and I
I'm dreaming every night
I'm searching every day
I had her in my sights
and let her slip away
And there's the stars way in the sky leading my way and i don't know where or why
still I can't see you.
And when my backs against the wall
I see a reason for it all but still I can't see you
I'm dreaming every night
I'm searching every day
I had her in my sights
and let her slip away
And I still can't see you
And I still can't see you
And I still can't see you
Lauren and I
