

Ceremonial Oath, The Day I Buried

[lyrics:Nordberg]

Felling my cries,don't know what to do wondering where I am Looking around,still feeling the pain burning like a fire so red The thoughts that you share with so many more still hearing the screams of their laughter Inside my body,inside my soul where I thought I was untill know Scuffing away as usual always keep in my mind that the savage treatment of my self will end when we say goodbye At home at night the thoughts will arrive why me,why me,why nobody else While searching for another tomorrow they're forcing this man to perdition Longing for some understanding I can't express my thoughts for these people I don't think I have any reason I wonder if I can stand this any longer
I have to take this step,this step to a place
The place deep beneath or the place high above the clouds
