

Cetera Peter, Still Getting Over You

Cetera Peter
One Clear Voice
Still Getting Over You
Since you went away
Can't face the day
Just can't face it on my own
Try to be strong, try to carry on
With a broken heart in an empty home

Lying awake half the night without sleeping
Hopelessly thinking of you
Here in my heart I have to admit it's true
I'm still getting over you

I begged you not to leave
I asked you not to run away
Oh but you wouldn't listen
I couldn't change your mind
So you left me here behind
Oh how I miss your touch
And your tender kissing
Lying awake half the night without sleeping
Hopelessly thinking of you
Deep down inside I hate to admit it's true
But I'm still getting over you

Lying awake half the night without sleeping
Hopelessly thinking of you
Here in my heart I have to admit it's true
There's nothing I can do
I'm still getting over you
