

Chai Fonacier, Unfair

Why.. Do we always throw it all away
Someone asked me just the other day
Does nothing really last oh so they say
I'm sorry hey but they've said it anyway

I reach for you right now, I feel like hell
The world is on my shoulder I can tell
Don't you pretend
Coz you know me damn well
I still don't know why life is so unfair

Maybe you don't understand how it feels
My haunted yesterdays,
All fallen out of place
I can never run away from this insanity
Would you like to come around
And comfort me

Sun break this time
Here comes the morning light
I thought I'll never make it
If love was such a crime,

Again and again
My heart is guilty as charged 'til the end

So won't you hold me eve just for while
And tell that I should smile
Yeah, it's been so long
Since the last time I tried
To I still have to believe

Take a look at what's inside my heart
Right in there you will see
Things that are not from me
I just don't know
How far will I go without fallen again
Oh Where have ou been

I reach for you righ now I feel like hell
The world is on my shoulder I can tell
Don't you pretend
Coz you know me damn well
Now, I know why LIFE IS SO UNFIAR
