Hair

People ask me everywhere
&quot;Is that really all your hair?&quot;
I just tell `em, &quot;If it ain't
Then it sure don't mean
That now I can't&quot;

I just don't believe it's fair
To judge a girl by the length of her hair

Take two words like &quot;hip&quot; and &quot;square&quot;
The truth will shine and not your hair
Even the blind can almost see
What's outside you and inside me

Down or high, truth or lie
A weak girl's laugh can be
A strong girl's cry

Black or blond or nappy or fair -
You can't judge nobody by hair
If I thought that you would care
I'd wear a wig up under my hair

Down or high, truth or lie
A weak girl's laugh can be
A strong girl's cry
