

Chamillonaire, Successful

I knew I would be, I knew I would be successful

I knew I would be, I knew I would be successful (yeah)

I knew I would be, I knew I would be successful

[Verse 2: ~Chamillonaire~]

Said I was dressin tacky (yeah), while they was dressin in khakis

Walked in the gymnasium, back when

They didn't attack me (yeah)

Pictures that they attach me that say "that I miss you badly"

Wonderin how it feel to realize that you could of had me (could of had me)

Even in Spanish little Kelly was lookin cute

The usages of her tongue could never be good as you

It was Quito (yeah), Ecuador (yeah), Lima (yeah), Peru

Who knew that I would of flew? to every city that she spew

Interview and I ain't even have no time for dinner

But no one cares that you're skinny when they feel that you a winner

Women want to be with you, even if you a beginner

Want you to stay the night even if you ain't really finna

You enter, the room and she's watchin out the corner

Her eye on you, realize that she got barely nothin on her

She gets off of the bed and then says "follow if you wanna" (yep)

She hops in the jacuzzi and says join her (yep)

[Repeat Chorus:]
