

Channel 69, Promise Is Breaking

She was all I ever wanted
Little dress, and oh so mean
I felt certainty
That this would go my way

Then I told her
That I didn't mean a single word
Suggesting a compromise
I'm not surprised
I gave the wrong impression

You must have mistaken
I don't give apologies
If promise is breaking
That doesn't bother me
In this situation
You're asking for guarantees
This promise is breaking
And that doesn't bother me

I was all she ever wanted
Nothing mattered 'cause she had me
I felt guilty knowing
That it would end someday
When I told her I was falling in love
But not with her
I think she snapped and cried
And asked if I lied
What a stupid question!

You must have mistaken
I don't give apologies
If promise is breaking
That doesn't bother me
In this situation
You're asking for guarantees
This promise is breaking
And that doesn't bother me
