

Channel Zero, Painful Jokes

Sorry, I'm sure we got a real big problem
No need to think, sure you'll accept me
Check it in the lyrics of all bands with a mind
Rap intelligence has a lot of truth behind
That's what I call a cool form of expression It's never too late to learn a lesson by self mockery is how they criticize and nobody wants to do a sacrifice

I'm not the only one who wants to interfere in this Civilization is not a modern wilderness
Black & white, yellow, red
You'd better watch yourself instead
We all have the same blood in our veins and the color will never change

Subways and gangs, the evening falls
Trespassing colors of graffiti on the walls
Passport domain you got it all loose
Bitches, dope and the rest is on the booze
Face to face, they breath on your neck
Your cigarettes and wallet please never come back Fear us, no police, because sooner or later
We'll make you a cold man, streetgang nature

Painful jokes painful jokes
Inability spreads inside they bring the temper down
Hate that grows hate that grows
Submission pays they show you
That justice's always too late.

It's a difficult subject, who provokes who ?
Two little innocent cells they've made you.
Native baggage, everybody gets a portion Ever heard an embryo committing an abortion
And even if I did, it had no single choice
Your brains when in a primal state made a lot of noise
So when you're not so happy about the color of your skin
you should have talked to your mommy before she lets him in

Painful jokes painful jokes
Inability spreads inside they bring the temper down
Hate that grows hate that grows
Submission pays they show you
That justice's always too late.

Right now it's a hard way of living
Tomorrow the problems stay

Painful jokes painful jokes
Inability spreads inside they bring the temper down
Hate that grows hate that grows
Submission pays they show you
That justice's always too late.
