

Charity, You Are The One

You are the one
Yeah, you are the one
Once I was a child
A child in a shroud
Where clouds of dark did hide
The smile you have found
Your eyes have seen my fire
My self serving crown and in my vain desire
You've wrapped your arms around me
You, you, are the one
Once I was afraid
Of all I built failing
But then I called your name
And you became my king
You, you, are the one
You are the one who has lifted me up
When all of the world, buried me
You are the one, who has given me hope
The strength that you give
It carries me, carries me, carries me home
You, you, are the one
