

Charley Pride, She's That Kind

She can take the morning rain falling on my window pane
And turn it into sunshine in my mind
And she can take the darkest night and brighten it with a love sweet light
And I'm satisfied just knowing she's that kind
And I can feel so down and out but she knows what it's all about
And she can help me leave it all behind
There's something in the way she smiles that seems to brighten all my trials
It's good to know my woman is that kind
She's that kind that I'm thankful to the Lord above
For sending me that kind of woman for me to love
If I could live another life and I could choose another wife
I wouldn't change a thing cause she's that kind
[guitar]
She's that kind that I'm thankful...
No I wouldn't change a thing cause she's that kind
