

Charley Pride, You'll Still Be The One

When other arms have held me close and new lips softly called my name
With all our goodbye's said and done you'll still be the one you'll still be the one
The night she tried with all her love to take away your memory
But when I wake up in her arms you'll still be the one you'll still be the one
You'll still be the one my crazy heart runs to
And it's unfair I know imagine she's you when I love her
Though time may bring her close to me it's not the same as loving you
And after all it's said and done you'll still be the one you'll still be the one [ piano ]
You'll still be the one...
You'll still be the one you'll still be the one
