

charli d'amelio, if you ask me to

Saw you at the party, but you wouldn't say a single thing,
You smiled for a moment, but then she kissed your cheek,
That's such a shame.
Cause I know that she can't love you quite like I could,
So I leave your text on read, and hope you're over thinking everything.

Saw me by myself, you said hello, and asked if I was good.
She walked up out of nowhere, damn, I almost said that I love you.
Now you're headed to her house to watch that movie you both like.
Well I'm up and losing sleep, what do I do, if it's not me you choose?

But god she's so pretty, and funny, and witty
yeah don't think that I stand a chance.
And she's so fucking lucky, cause all i've been wanting
Is you to be holding my hand.

But it feels like forever,
from minutes to seconds to hours, spent waiting for you.
But she loves you too. I guess it's too soon.
But I'd come running if you asked me too.

Ahhh

Had you to myself but then you left and didn't even care.
Didn't give a second thought cause you know that i'd still be here.
If you always thought about her, did you have to waste my time?
So if blue was never love then all this time, have I been color blind?

But god she's so perfect, no flaws on the surface,
I don't think that I stand a chance.
And she's so fucking lucky, cause all i've been wanting
Is you to be holding my hand.

But it feels like forever,
from minutes to seconds to hours, spent waiting for you.
But she loves you too. I guess it's too soon.
But I'd come running if you asked me too.

Ahhhh, I'd come running if you asked me too

Ahhh, But i'd come running if you asked me too.
Ahhh, But i'd come running if you asked me too.
Ahhh, But i'd come running if you asked me too.
