

Charlie Landsborough, A Million Ways To Fall

He laid his deepest feelings down before her
He showed her all the corners of his heart
He gave her all the dreams his life had woven
And in her hands he watched them fall apart

He wrapped her in his vision of perfection
The burden proved too much for her to take
She couldn't wear the halo that he gave her
She couldn't go on hiding each mistake

CHORUS:

Now the spell is badly broken
There are no angels after all
There's only people, lonely people
And a million ways to fall

She left him with a note of measured sorrow
She thought she would be cruel to be kind
But he has problems trying to forget her
Her memory walks the shadows of his mind

REPEAT CHORUS:

A million promises to break
A million liberties to take
A million feelings to fake
And a million ways to fall
Music-----

Now the spell is badly broken
There are no angels after all
There's only people, lonely people
And a million ways to fall

Fading with the Music

Now the spell is badly broken
There are no angels after all
There's only people, lonely people
And a million ways to fall

Fades Out.....

Now the spell is badly broken
There are no angels after all
There's only people, lonely people
And a million ways to fall
