

Charlie Landsborough, If Only I Had Wings

If only I had wings
I'd let the air release my mind
And leave my worries far behind
And let the silent oceans of the sky
Wash every grain of sorrow from my eyes

If only I had wings
I'd fly beyond the rainbow's door
In search of heaven's stardust shore Where long forgotten dreams will all come true
Beyond the mellow oceans tender blue

I'm flying,
up where the eagle reigns I'm flying,
leaving behind my chains

If only I had wings
upon the breeze I'd lay my soul
And let God's hand take full control
And sing my heart's surrender to His love Forever to the moon and stars above

I'm flying,
up where the eagle reigns
I'm flying,
leaving behind my chains

Music

And let the silent oceans of the sky
Wash every grain of sorrow from my eyes
If only I had wings.
If only I had wings.
