

Charlie Landsborough, What Happened To Love

Some people say
To go a long way
Forget about others
Think of number 1

Take what you can
From your fellow man
Doesn't matter who you walk upon

What happened to
Love your neighbor
As your self
Where it's needed
Give a little help
What happened to love
Some would sell
Their soul to hell
For all the things money can buy
Power and fame is the name of their game
But you can't take it with you when you die

What happened to
Blessed are the humble
And the weak
Blessed are the poor
We turn the other cheek
What happened to love
I prefer to live life by that old black book
It's guided me along life's way
Of every hour
Of every day
Down every road I've took

This world today
Has gone a stray
So many bound by selfishness and pride
Folk chivy and chase
What's worthless and base
And wonder why they're never satisfied

Tell me what
Happened to blessed are the pure
Isn't it beauty valued any more
What happened to love
What happened to love
What happened to love
