

Charlie Landsborough, When The Counting's Done

When the counting's done on the judgment day
All the things we cherish and we threw away
The angel who's defending me will surely say
See how he truly loved her
Oh how he truly loved her

When the counting's done
I will bare with shame
The catalog of selflessness against my name
But heaven will record that life could never quench the flame
That burns in my heart forever
Burns in my heart forever

When this life is through I'll still be loving you
I pray that god will let my love live on
When the counting's done

When the counting's done
And all truth is known
And I stand there in the blinding lights
Before gods throne
He'll say that the only thing that stop his heart
From turning to into stone
Was how he truly loved her
Oh how he truly loved her

When this life is through I'll still be loving you
I pray that god will let my love live on
When the counting's done

When this life is through I'll still be loving you
I pray that god will let my love live on
When the counting's done
