

Charlie Landsborough, White Lies And Windows

She wears her heart
Upon her sleeve and doesn't think
The world can see
Behind a smile she hopes can seize
Her broken box of memories

White lies in windows
Easy to see through
Look with your heart
Look with your eyes
You'll see the world or a heart that's been broken
Looking through windows and white lies

He rakes the ashes of yesterday
For something he can't wear with pride
He says he could have had it all
If only he had tried

White lies in windows
Easy to see through
Look with your heart
Look with your eyes
You'll see the world or a heart that's been broken
Looking through windows and white lies

And we all hide sometimes
Behind the life
It's a fool's game
Its ourselves we deceive
She says she's glad
She never married
No one to hurt
No one to please
Children would have only tied her down
Stolen her fantasy

White lies in windows
Easy to see through
Look with your heart
Look with your eyes
You'll see the world or a heart that's been broken
Looking through windows and white lies
Looking through windows and white lies
