

Charlie Landsborough, You And Me

Some folks lives are spent following the scent of make believe
From my point of view all I see is you and me

Some folk make demands holding out their hands for everything
My requests are few all I ask is you and me
And when things go wrong I'll make it through
Just as long as I focus my heart on you

Some folk never rest in their endless quest for happiness
All I need to do is concentrate on you and me
There are those who say don't throw your love away on anyone
I confess I threw all I had on you and me

Every wind that blows can blow me away
If you always cared and I know you will
There are those who say don't throw your love away on anyone
I confess I threw all I had on you and me
I confess I threw all I had on you and me
