Charlie Louvin, Once A Day

Once a day every day all day long When I found somebody new I thought I never would Forget you for I thought then I never could But time has taken all the pains away until now I'm down to hurtin' once a day Once a day all day long and once a night from dusk till dawn The only time I wish you weren't gone is once a day every day all day long [ steel ] I'm so glad that I'm not like a boy I knew one time He lost the girl he loved then slowly lost his mind He sat around and cried his life away well lucky me I'm down to crying once a day Once a day all day long...

Once a day every day all day long
