

Charlie Louvin, She Forgot To Take Me

I came home the same as before then I noticed the wide opened door
What happened oh where can she be she's gone she forgot to take me
Empty covers the closets are bare not a sound just my falling tears
Did I hurt her oh if I did I'm sorry she's gone she forgot to take me
Is this the right house that I just walked in Yep there's our picture right where it's always been
I was happy I thought she was too it's so hard to believe we are through
Is someone by her side where I should be she's gone she forgot to take me
She's gone she forgot to take me
