

Charly McClain, Sentimental Ol' You (1984)

Charly McClain

Miscellaneous

Sentimental Ol' You (1984)

Who sends me flowers for no reason at all?

Who saves each card I've ever sent?

Who remembers everything about the day we met?

If you're wondering who, it's sentimental old you

Sentimental old you I love you just the way you are

Sentimental you I need you like the nighttime needs the stars

You're the kind of dreamer that dreams big enough for two

And whatever you do don't change sentimental old you

Who cries at the movies thinking I don't see?

Who laughs the loudest at the old cartoons?

Who complains that Christmas comes way too soon?

If you're wondering who, it's sentimental old you

Sentimental old you I love you just the way you are

Sentimental you I need you like the nighttime needs the stars

You're the kind of dreamer that dreams big enough for two

And whatever you do don't change sentimental old you

And whatever you do don't change sentimental old you