

Charly McClain, Women Get Lonely

Women get lonely when they are only
Waiting to share the night, wanting to share their lives
Make-believe lovers can't warm the covers
Needing a game to play and dreaming their nights away
Maybe tomorrow, he'll come along
And take you into his arms, where you belong
'Cause women get lonely when they are only
Waiting to share the night, wanting to share their lives
Women get lonely
Maybe tomorrow, he'll come along
And take you into his arms, where you belong
'Cause women get lonely when they are only
Waiting to share the night, wanting to share their lives
Women get lonely, women get lonely