

Chely Wright, Your Woman Misses Her Man

Layin' on my back in a cornfield back in Kansas
I think I might'a had my first original thought
Just me and miles of sky
An occasional crow flyin' by
I believe I saw the light Hank Williams saw

[Chorus:]

Oh the sky is blue cause it misses the stars
And my heart understands
To tell you the truth
I've seen 'bout all the blue that I can stand
Your woman misses her man
Your woman misses her man

Way up there there's an airplane full of people
Way down here I wish I was way up there too
Baby I need to get away
But, baby I need today
I can't help it if I'm still in love with you

[Chorus]

Tonight the sky will hold the stars
And I'll hold you here in my heart
Until I'm back there in your arms again

[Chorus]
