

Cher, Does Anybody Really Fall In Love Anymore

I walked down the street
People passing me by
They just look me up and down
But they don't look me in the eye
I'm just another stranger
In my own home town
Looking for an angel
But heaven can't be found

I say hey, are you lonely tonight?
Hey, hey, hey I'm gonna make it through
But that don't make it right

[Chorus:]
Does anybody really fall in love anymore?
Does anybody really give
Their heart to somebody?
Does anybody really ever open that door?
I know, I know you've got to love somebody
I know, I know I've got to find
Somebody to love

There's a sad face in the mirror
And I'm sad to say it's mine
Like a ghost up in the attic
Only love can set him free
I've been running around in circles
On this roller coaster ride
There's a lonely world around me
I get sucked in by the tide
I say hey, love ain't no crime
So why is everybody so afraid
To cross that line?

[Chorus]

Hey, hey, hey I'll be all right
'Cause I know that someone somewhere's
Gonna say these words tonight

[Chorus]
