

Cher, One Small Step

So many people
Need to go so many miles
How do we move them
To where the answer lies
Reach out to the ocean
Beyond the stars the shine
We've got to take one small step in time
If we are the dreamers
Then the world must be the dream
Driven to question
The things we've never seen
We search the horizon
Looking for a sign
We've got to take one small step in time
One step beyond - all our hopes and our passion
There is the light - of universe flashin'
All that it takes -
Is one leap of faith
One small step - one small step in time
Deep in the blackmess
There's a wind that never dies
Out in the vastness
There's a road across the sky
Out there is the reason
That we were meant to find
We've got to take - one small step in time
We've got to take - one small step in time
One small step
One small step
One small step in time
One small step
One small step
One small step in time
One small step
One small step
One small step in time
One small step
One small step
One small step in time
One small step
One small step
One small step in time
