

Cherbourg, The Mill

Well that mill it keeps on turning round and round
And your fingers get cut
And infected in the mud
It's the same again tomorrow
And that rain it seems to only fall on you
She never wants to stop
And the penny finally drops
That she probably never will

Is there no light at the end of this tunnel
Is there no light
Am I just fighting in a losing battle
Well that mill it keeps on turning round and round
Round

Spring wakes the flowers from their beds
For you they try to shine
Try to help you pass your time
With promises of progress
But it's all too little too late
As you take a look behind
Watch your future unwind
Your cuts turn to scars

Is there no light at the end of this tunnel
Is there no light
Am I just fighting in a losing battle
There is no light at the end of this tunnel
There is no light
I'm just fighting a losing battle

Well that mill it keeps on turning round and round
Round
Round
Round

[Bonus track]

It's just another bad dream
It's just another nightmare
You forgot to close your eyes

Oh, it's just another bad dream
It's just another nightmare
You forgot to close your eyes

Oh, it's just another bad dream
It's just another nightmare
You forgot to close your eyes

Oh, it's just another bad dream
It's just another nightmare
You forgot to close your eyes

Oh, it's just another bad dream
It's just another nightmare
You forgot to close your eyes

Oh, it's just another bad dream
It's just another nightmare
You forgot to close your eyes
