

Cherry Monroe, Passionately

She said let's start it up again
I got caught in, caught in the moment but She's so innocent
She bites my lip passionately

And I know shooting stars are born everyday
I know heaven feels so far away
I just want you passionately, so passionately
Passionately
I just want you passionately

It's on the tip of my tongue
We do the dumbest things, whoa, when we're young
Just squeeze my hand tight, it feels so right
Passionately

And I know shooting stars are born everyday
I know heaven feels so far away
I just want you passionately, so passionately
Passionately
I just want you passionately, so passionately
Passionately

You know that I can't take it
Anymore, anymore, you know that I can't take this Anymore, anymore, you know that I'm just breaking
Runaway, runaway
Runaway, runaway

She said let's start it up again
I got caught in, caught in the moment
She said let's start it up again
I got caught in, caught in the moment

She said let's start it up again

I just want you passionately, so passionately
Passionately
I just want you passionately, so passionately
Passionately
I just want you passionately, so passionately
Passionately
I just want you passionately
Passionately (repeat to fade)
