

Chesnutt Mark, Hey You There In The Mirror

Chesnutt Mark

Miscellaneous

Hey You There In The Mirror

Hey you there in the mirror

I didn't know you had a smile

I've watched the canyons on your face

Grow deeper with the miles

With your heart barely beating

And your spirit black and blue

I was sure that you were headed

For an early waterloo

Hey you there in the mirror

What happened to your frown

That twinkle in those smiling eyes

Is shining like a crown

You must have met somebody

With compassion in her heart

Who looked upon your Haggard face

And saw a work of art

Chorus

Hey you there in the mirror

Well aint you lookin' proud

And not long ago you harbored thoughts

Of throwin' in the towel

Each day you're feelin' stronger

There's new life in your blood

Why I thought that weathered face

Would look so good in love

Repeat Chorus