

Chez Kane, I Just Want You

You call me on the weekend – In the middle of the night
You say you need a friend – And a shoulder to cry on
You know it ain't a secret – She ain't treating you right
And I just don't know – Why you still wanna' fight on

When there's someone else right here
Someone who'll save those tears
And when you let her go – I'll be there waiting

If I can't have you I don't want no one at all
If I can't get your love – What's left to fight for
If I can't have you I don't want no one at all
Yeah it's true – Don't you know – I just want you

I wake up in the morning – With the door open wide
I know you're gone, and I know who you've run to
You come without a warning, but never stay on my side
And I'm left alone, 'cause it's her you belong to

And I'll always be right here
You'll always have me near
And when you let her go – I'll be there waiting

Yeah it's true, don't you know
You're the only one I'm fighting for
And no matter what they're saying
Gonna' be forever waiting for you – Baby
