

Chicago, Back To You

I found the note she left me
And once again I just couldn't care
A black and white movie at the end
Where have I seen this all before

Convinced I really loved her
She believed the act, it was so unfair
I stumbled through the final scene
She won't believe it anymore

In my dreams you never left
But in the morning there I'd be
Alone with some new true believer
Lying next to me

[CHORUS]
Got to get back to you
God give me the power
Back to you
Each moment's like an hour
If only I could find the way
I'd find my way back to you

The saddest sound I ever heard
Was the door that closed behind you
Blind to what was in my heart
I must admit I was a fool

Well, I'm older now and wiser
The truth is easier to see
The boy you knew was searching
But now the man knows what he needs

[repeat CHORUS 2x]

Back to you
Can't live my life as one
Back to you
When all is said and done
If only I could find the way
I'd find my way back to you

Back to you
Back to you
