

Chicago, If She Would've Been Faithful

I was thinking about her visiting the past reconstructing details with old photographs
I was studying the phases of that objective point of view Suddenly remembering doesn't haunt me
At the time you couldn't tell me that one day I'd be glad That something that I thought was love was misinterpreted
She had another lover, she inthatically denied they were doin me a favor a blessing in disguise.
If she would've been faithful
If would have been true
then I would've been cheated
I would never have found real love
I would have missed out on you I watch you sleepin, Your body touchin me there's no doubt about it this is where I want to be You know it's so ironic, I had to lose to win
I wanna thank her
If she would've been faithful
If would have been true
then I would've been cheated
I would never have found real love
I would have missed out on you
It's a paradise full of contradiction how I got from here to there it defines a logical explanation
If she would've been faithful
If would have been true
then I would've been cheated
I would never have found real love
I would have missed out on you missed out on you
If she would've been faithful
If would have been true
If she would've been true
then I would've been cheated
I would never have found real love
I would have missed out on you
I would've missed out on you
If she would've been faithful (repeat til the end of the song)
