What A Big Surprise

What A Big Surprise

Chicago

Right before my very eyes, I thought that you were only faking it.

And right before my heart was taken in.

Baby what a big surprise. Right before my very eyes.

Yesterday it seemed to me my life was nothing more than wasting time.

But here today you slowly changed my mind

Baby what a big surprise. Right before my very eyes.

Just to be alone was a little more than I could take

Then you came to stay.

You love me in the morns, you love me in the afternoons

Help me find my way.

Now and then just like before I think about the love I've thrown away.

But now it doesn't matter anyway.

Baby what a big surprise. Right before my very eyes.
