

Chinchilla, The cross

Red river flows down the skin of his face step by step he's walking through the mist life ordains die