

Chiodos, I Didn't Say I Was Powerful, I

I'm not the one that you want, I'll only let you down.
and I'm pretty sure that you've caught on.
and you can save it all I'm just feeling sorry for my

I think it's every time I look into a room pure silence so sudden but I sooth to hear it context saying that you are the rain on the parade and how long could you hang on to a word tell me how long how could you hang on to a word

I'm not the one that you want; I'll only let you down.
and I'm pretty sure that you've caught on.
and you can save it all
I'm just feeling sorry for myself

but maybe it's all eyes on you; in love with ego and attention the eyes that are just begging me for more this is gone and I can see it.
your head is full of words, full of words that don't mean anything

and how long could you hang on to a word tell me how long could you hang on to a word

I'm not the one that you want; I'll always let you down.
and I'm pretty sure that you've caught on.
and you can save it all
I'm just feeling sorry for myself

I'm not the one that you want; I'll always let you down.
and I'm pretty sure that you've caught on.
and you can save it all
I'm just feeling sorry for myself
