

Chris And Conrad, Always There

I have run but I cant lose you,
I built up walls but You just break through
I'm trying to escape trying to escape,
But your keepin up the chase keepin up the chase
I break your heart but you just come back
You've open arms and I know
I can't ever make You leave never gonna leave
Love is holding me love is holding me
I can never walk anywhere without you.
Try to turn my back but still I find you
Everywhere I go everywhere I know
Your always there always there
There are days I want to turn back
Sometimes its so tough to trust that
You gotta a plan for me gotta plan for me
But its hard for me to see hard for me to see
There's one thing with which I'm sure of
No high no depth no fear of failure
Can pull me from your grace can pull me from your grace
I can never walk anywhere without you.
Try to turn my back but still I find you
Everywhere I go everywhere I know
Your always there always there
When I'm walking in the light faith comes easy
When I'm drowning in my doubt not believing
Every step I take with me all the way
Your always there always there
And I wont ever be alone (I wont ever be alone)
No I wont ever be alone (I wont ever be alone)
I can never walk anywhere without you.
Try to turn my back but still I find you
Everywhere I go everywhere I know
Your always there always there
When I'm walking in the light faith comes easy
When I'm drowning in my doubt not believing
Every step I take with me all the way
Your always there always there
You are always there, always there.
