

Chris And Conrad, Breathe Your Life

Lost in an ocean, it seems my time has come
I'm hardly breathing as fear fills my lungs
The life is fading fast
I don't know how much longer I have
Breathe the life in me
I'm drowning in this tragedy
Of living for myself and what I think I need
You're the only one that can breathe back to life
Just breathe
Breathe the life in me
Sinking and hopeless to the depths of my own soul
Wondering what happened, did I ever have control?
My life is fading fast
I don't know how much longer I have
Breathe the life in me
I'm drowning in this tragedy
Of living for myself and what I think I need
You're the only one that can breathe back to life
Just breathe
Breathe your life in me
And I feel you inside of my veins
And all so true
The beating of my heart
When you, when you
Breathe your life in me
I was drowning in the tragedy
Of living for myself and what I thought I needed
You're the only one that can breathe back to life (2x)
Just breathe
Just breathe
