

Chris And Conrad, Buried Alive

We've all broken ground
Take one look around
We're in over our heads and we keep diggin down
We've all broken ground
Makin' sure nobody sees the dirt on our face
That just would not come clean
And hoping that this is the day when everything changes
CHORUS

Oh, We take one last breath as the walls cave right in
Cover our heads as the weight of this world comes crashing down again
The last ray of light can no longer be found
With no point of reference to find our way out
Scream out loud
Does anybody know that we are, buried alive?
We all know the sound
We've been hunted down
And we all sing along from the moment we're found
We all know the sound
(Chorus)
Oh, We take one last breath as the walls cave right in
Cover our heads as the weight of this world comes crashing down again
(Chorus)