

Chris Isaak, Forever Blue

Nobody ever warns you, or tells you what to do.
She walks away, you're left to stay.
Alone forever blue.

The stars have all stopped shining, the sun just won't break through.
Each days the same, more clouds more rain.

Forever blue 'cause you love her, but she dosen't love you.
You did your best, life did the rest.

No reason left for living, still there's a lot to do.
New tears to cry, old songs to sing.
And feel forever blue.
And be forever.... Blue
