

Chris Isaak, The End Of Everything

This is the end of everything, this is the end I know.
This is the end of everything, take your love with you when you go.
This is the end of happiness, this is the end dreams.
This is the end of everything, it's the end for you and me.

I don't know, what to do.
In my heart I still love you.

I don't know, what to say.
I will always feel this way.

This is the end of everything, this is the end I know.
This is the end of everything, take your love with you when you go.
Oh...
