

Chris LeDoux, Horses And Cattle

My home in Montana, I wear a bandana,
My spurs are silver, my horse is a bay.
And I've been a-roamin' all over Wyomin'
There plenty of work, but there ain't too much pay.

Me and a few boys we signed on at Dubois,
To feed through the winter and camp out awhile.
Come a hard hittin' norther from the Montana border,
We tallied the frozen ones mile after mile.

Well they give you your three squares and a bunk to sleep there,
And just enough wages to keep you around.
But with no place to spend it and nowhere to send it,
You can stay out of debt if you stay out of town.

CHORUS

It horses and cattle and a double rig saddle,
With a stout line, a catch twine, and a good ropin' arm.
Wherever there ranches, I've been takin' my chances,
From sunrise to sunset since the day I was born.

We struck out for Laramie early one Saturday,
Spring was a breakin' the grass turnin' green.
Well, I took a hand in some fast movin' brandin'
When they offered top wages at the Bar Seventeen.

We followed a rodeo clear up to Codedo,
Tryin' to ride me a bronco or two.
Well, I [C]busted some hosses for [F]two or three bosses,
And [C]lost all the wages that [G]ever I [C]drew.

[C]Well it hell and high water for the [F]Idaho border,
Where [C]I've got a gal if that letter don't [G]lie.
If she [C]gives me a reason to [F]stay through the season,
I'll [C]take her to Elko when the [F]snow starts to [C]fly.
