

Chris LeDoux, What More Could A Cowboy Need

Well I spent half my life out on the highway
Chasin' rodeos through every little town
In an old pickup truck with a little cowboy luck
Well I never thought I'd ever settle down
Back then I didn't know what I was missin'
Just a runnin' wild and livin' fancy free
I had money in my jeans and my gold buckle dreams
And I swore no woman would ever capture me
But now things have changed and I'm happy
I got a women that I love and three boys that call me pappy
Got the good Lord up above I'm in a country that I love
Now what more could a cowboy ever need

Yea I had everything I ever wanted and a woman couldn't fit into my world
Cause I had broncs to ride and a million miles to drive
And a cowboy just can't have a steady girl
But now things have changed...
Got the good Lord up above I'm in a country that I love
Now what more could a cowboy ever need
