

Chris Norman, Picture Of You

Darling though I'm so far away
And I won't be back for so long
I'll think of you and miss you every day
And keep your picture right here where you belong

Baby you crept into my heart
Now I count the days 'til we're together again
And I'm trying to turn the minutes into days
And remember just how beautiful you are

And you lying in my arms holding me so tight kissing me goodnight
Darling, I can still feel you and every little thing you do
Though I only have a picture of you

I see oh so many people every night
Baby still I feel so all alone
And I'm reading all the messages you write
And wishing that I'll soon be coming home

And you lying in my arms holding me so tight kissing me goodnight
Darling, I can still feel you and every little thing you do
Though I only have a picture of you

And you lying in my arms holding me so tight kissing me goodnight
Darling, I can still feel you and every little thing you do
Though I only have a picture of you, I only have a picture of you
