

Chris Rice, Missin' You

I heard about the day You went away
You said You had to go prepare a place
And even though I've never seen Your face
I'm missin' You
I lie awake tonight and I watch the sky
And I wish it didn't have to be so high â€~Cause I'm belonging on the other side
And I'm missin' You
â€~Cause somewhere behind those stars
Is Someone who belongs to me
And I know in my deepest heart
There's a place for You
Until I find the place You've made for me
Still I'm missin' You
I dream about Your promise to return
And I wake up hangin' on Your every word
But for now my feet are planted here on earth
So I'm missin' You
And even while they say that I'm a fool
I know you see me waiting here for You Oh, and prayin' that somehow You'll get here soon â€~Cause I'm missin' You
â€~Cause somewhere behind those stars
Is Someone who belongs to me
And I know in my deepest heart
There's a place for You
Until I find the place You've made for me
But still I'm missin' You
How much longer will it be Till I get to see you
Though I know you're right here with me
Tell me when can I be there with you
â€~Cause somewhere behind those stars
Is Someone who belongs to me
And I know in my deepest heart
There's a place for You
Until I find the place You've made for me
Still I'm missin' You
Oh, I'm missin' You
Lord, I'm missin' You