

Chris Rice, You Don't Have To Yell

So called reality right there on my TV
If that's how life's supposed to be
Well, somebody's lyin'
The camera's on and we can tell
To keep your fame you have to yell
'Cause tensions build and products sell
And we're all buyin'
I hope we're smarter than this
Everybody take a breath
Why are all your faces red?
We're missin' all the words you said
You don't have to yell
Draw your lines and choose your side
