Chris Young, It Takes A Man

She locked her fingers and bowed her head She said, "I'm late and I'm really scared" Now you can go but I hope you stay I'm gonna keep it either way In my daddy's El Camino In her driveway in the rain Starin' through that windshield I could see my future change And my heart hit like a hammer And my thoughts were runnin' wild Any fool can make a baby But it takes a man to raise a child I laid my head down on the wheel She said, &guot; I know, I know it don't seem real&guot; She closed her eyes but the tears flowed through She said, " Don't hate me for lovin' you" In my daddy's El Camino In her driveway in the rain Starin' through that windshield I could see my future change And my heart hit like a hammer And my thoughts were runnin' wild Any fool can make a baby But it takes a man to raise a child Oh, I could not reassure her I couldn't say what I had planed Couldn't put three words together So I just took her hand In my daddy's El Camino In her driveway in the rain Starin' through that windshield I could see my future change And my heart hit like a hammer And my thoughts were runnin' wild Any fool can make a baby

But it takes a man to raise a child
