

Christina Aguilera, Extra Extra

Compassion is the last thing felt for someone who's rich Automatically labeled as a whiny, spoiled little bitch
Sometimes the truth is something some don't wanna ever swallow
So instead they'd rather start a rumor mill and hope that others follow

Not to complain, but I just feel like I can't get any clearance here

They still expect you to smile through tears at this and that little appearance there

Forgive me for crying, can't keep lying, 'cause I'm slowly dying from the pain I feel

Calling for help, to them would equal to a publicity stunt even though it's so real

Chorus:

Extra extra, read all about it
When they believe it's the truth
Don't matter if you doubt it
They want to read all about it

Extra extra, they scream and shout it

Extra extra, all in the headlines

When they believe it's the truth

Can't convince them otherwise

They want to read all about it

Extra extra, they scream and shout it

I'm breathing and I'm thankful to God everyday that I still stand tall

And I do my best not to stress, turn to drugs or soak in alcohol

Nobody's perfect and I know this, trust me, I deal with the cant's and can's

I just put my faith into my savior and know that I've got my supportive fans

Not to complain, but I just feel like I can't get any clearance here

They still expect you to smile through tears at this and that little appearance there

Forgive me for crying, can't keep lying, 'cause I'm slowly dying from the pain I feel

Calling for help, to them would equal to a publicity stunt even though it's so real

Chorus:

Extra extra, read all about it
When they believe it's the truth
Don't matter if you doubt it
They want to read all about it

Extra extra, they scream and shout it

Extra extra, all in the headlines

When they believe it's the truth

Can't convince them otherwise

They want to read all about it

Extra extra, they scream and shout it

(They say) Look at her, she's so Dirrty, why won't she stop it, she's trying to be something she's not

(They say) Oh My Gosh, no she didn't, she must be crazy, thinking she's all that when she's not so hot

(I say) Baby, please don't misunderstand, I do what I do whenever I want, however I want to

(I wish) They didn't try to understand at all, take me as I am or ignore, let me do what I came to do

Chorus: 4x

Extra extra, read all about it
When they believe it's the truth
Don't matter if you doubt it

They want to read all about it

Extra extra, they scream and shout it

Extra extra, all in the headlines
When they believe it's the truth
Can't convince them otherwise
They want to read all about it
Extra extra, they scream and shout it
Nobody's perfect and I know this, trust me, I deal with the cant's and can's
I just put my faith into my savior and know that I've got my supportive fans
Don't ever stop believing in me
Christina's going to always love you
As long as ya'll keep trusting in me
I promise I will always pull through
